Russian as under the Turk. The Armenians prefer the slavery of the present rule to that slavery of which they know nothing. Under Russia of course there would be no massacre, as Russla is Christian, but there are other methods of oppressignouror serrible to the Armenian than the fiere killing of the body.

"At all events, under Turkey, the religious practices of Armenians are suffered. A change of Sultans would do no good. "Turkey is the same under any ruler and has been so for centuries. A different ruler would effect nothing.

"What is wanted if a change of practice. A change in the management of the empire. The Sultan should not be invested with the power of the head of the church and the head of the empire. He should be a king, not a plest. A separate person should be at the head of the church and deal with all religious quest obs.

""His would in a large measure assist towards a solution of the vexed question. Lord Salisbury, made a powerful speece in the flower of the Armentin cause and naturally the Chris lan world waited to see him put the words into effect. Which has England done besided making a display of diplomacy, which instead of calmidating in the expected victorious finished a lamentable and feeble and? She has been defeated by the Sultan, yet she stirs not. It is impossible to understand her, unless one, ascribes her conduct o a desire to che k-mate Russia and not assist. Armedia in the trouble.

"This is doubtless the solution of her policy of words without action. She is afrain Russis will get some advantage which she will not stare. Instead of a christian people rising up in might and asking that the massacres and outrages on another christian people shall cease, she, after a feeble manifestation of opposition, silently acquireces in a continuation of the terrible scenes.

she, after a feeble manifestation of opposition, silently acquiesces in a continuation, silently acquiesces in a continuation of the terrible scenes.

'In the irade of 18:3, which the recent reform circular tacit y admits never has been enforced by oriering its enforcement now, is a part graph which says that when the people are contected and happy when justice is among them, they should be faithful to their ruler and render bim all obedients when the same people are idnied justice and are oppressed.

'It is not only to be expected that they will take arms sgainst their oppressors, but such an act is justified. Temperate Armeniaps do not justify their countrymen in taking up arms. They acknowledge that terrible provocation has been given them, and refer to the passage of the irade of 1839 as pleading something in extenuation of the act. The same Armeniaps plead that hecause a few

San Francisco, Nov. 27. Ropolulus divices dated Nov. 20 say: Everything is quethere. Business is active. Since the declaration made by the new Japanese colomissioner, Shimamura, on the day of his arrival, that he intended to actively prosecute the discussion with this government regarding their failure to fulfil their engagements in their impringention treaty with Japan, he has remained silent. It is now believed that he was cautioned by Consul' Shunidau, in obed ense to instructions from the legation at Washington, not to take an agreement of the allegation of Minister Castle that Japan had designs on Hawaii.

That would be found desirable at the open og of the session of congress in which the Hawaiian question would comid up.

President Dolo stated today that it was

The claimants are the owners, master and crew of the tug Ruelle and her consort, the barge Huron, seized in the Detroit river by the Canadian revenue cutter Petrel last spring. The hoats were taken to Ambersthurg. The boats were taken to Amherstburg, where the crews were arraigned on the where the crews were arraighed on the charge of 'bringing a scow loaded with garbage into the township of Malden." The captain and crew were sentenced to fourteen days at hard labor, at the Sundwick juli. It cost Mr. Ruglle, the Sandwick jull. It cost Mr. Ruelle, the owner of the tug, $400 to have the vessel released. It is claimed that the tug and consort were in American waters' when selzed and that the selzers of the boats and the urrests of the members, of the erews were gross outrages. It is claimed that the tug and burge were on their way to lake Erle to doup garbage in American waters.

No Comparison the \"w York Horld rebukes the At arta to atd tion for remarking hat the opposit on to the re numifation of Crisq. in the Democratic caucu is simply a movement to ' humiliate' the ex Speaker but suppose Mr Reed had in a speech in daine avowed himself i free trader, would the Republicans elect him Speaker such talk on his part would not be greater heresy toward the Republican plaiform than Mr Crisp's appeal was toward the Democratic platform.

Here is no compression between the Pere is no comparison between the two platforms. One is a straight-for vard declaration in favor of protection and susceptible of no other meaning The Democratic platform was a straddle and was so intended by the anniesion of the members of the committee that drafted it. It has served the purpose of the Democratic party to pose as in favor of 'sound money," and of course the renomination of Crisp, which no one doubts will be the result of the party (aucus, will illum nate oace more the fact that Democracy and demagogism are synonymous terms, but when the World talks about the free silver ideas of Mr Crisp being in the nature of heresy towards the Democratic creed, it is simply indulging its well known propensity for editorial nonsense The Washington correspondent of the Democratic Louisville Courier-Journal, has compiled statistics showing the fluor emi views of the Democrats in the next House with the following result Free lariver, 56, "Sound money," 41, doubtful, 7. In the election of members of the next House the Democratic party was nearly crushed out of existence, but it was impossible to eradicate the free silver tains that has clung to the party all of these years, and of the handful of members saved from the wreck a majority still flaunt the same old banner.
